By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Gov. Sid McMath committed himself today to run for governor if he gets a $100,000 campaign fund. McMath said his plans were not contingent on what Gov. Orval E. Faubus does. He said he would have a definite announcement by Saturday.

McMath issued a statement in which he decried the high cost of running for governor. He said experience from past campaigns indicated it would require at least $100,000 to get into a runoff with an incumbent governor.

"We have seen in recent days good men diverted from a laudable ambition to run for governor because campaign funds were frozen by the power structure which over the past eight years has been nurtured by the present administration," McMath said. "This situation is unhealthy and undemocratic."

McMath said he had recommended to the 1963 legislature that each political party be required by law to supervise the conduct of its own primary in the governor's race. "I suggested that state committees be charged with scheduling political rallies, allotting speaking time, and allocating newspaper space and radio and television time to each as candidates," McMath said.

"In order to restrict the field to various candidates, I suggested the present $1,500 filing fee could be required, accompanied by a petition by 15,000 qualified electors."

McMath said about $60,000 has been raised for his campaign so far. Another money raising meeting, which McMath will attend, is scheduled tonight in Fort Smith.

McMath, governor in 1949-52, has said he would run this year if friends raised $100,000 in campaign funds. At last report pledges totaled $60,000 and another money meeting is scheduled in Fort Smith tonight.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus indicated again Wednesday that he will not run until just before the ticket closes to reveal what he will do.

Faubus said a recent poll indicated he could get 52 per cent of the vote with 12 per cent undecided at this time. He got 57 per cent of the 1960 first primary vote in winning a fourth term.

Faubus pointed out Wednesday that he never has said he had changed his mind about retiring, merely that he was "reconsidering" his decision.

Sheriff Robert Moore of Desha County filed for reelection Wednesday, ending speculation that he might run for governor. Moore lost interest in the race when reports began circulating that Faubus would run again.

Marvin Melton of Jonesboro has said he will file and pay the $1,500 filing fee at 2 p. m. Friday. He would become the second fully qualified candidate, joining Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark.

Kenneth Coffelt, Little Rock attorney, and David A. Cox, a Pointsett County farmer, have filed but North Little Rock businessman, not paid the fee. Odell Dorsey, has announced but not filed.

Melton received a petition Wednesday with names of about 1,100 University of Arkansas students and faculty urging him to run.

Vernon Whitten of Mount Holly, who has said he will enter "some state or national race," revealed Wednesday that he will buy television time Friday to make his announcement.

Whitten has indicated he may run for governor, the U.S. Senate of the U.S. House of Representatives.

2 Murdered in More Chicago Violence

By EDMUND D'MOCH

ELMWOOD PARK, Ill. (AP) — A volley of gunshots killed two men and a woman before dawn today as they motored along a quiet residential street in this Chicago suburb. The car crashed into a house.

Neighborhood residents said they heard a number of rapidly fired shots.

The victims were identified tentatively by police as Phillip Scavo, 36, of Elmwood Park; Ronald Scavo, 20, of Chicago; and Marianne Martarone, 20, also of Chicago. Police said it was not known if the Scavos were related.

Police said Phillip Scavo was shot once in the left side of the neck. Marianne Martarone was shot twice in the head and Ronald Scavo had a neck wound. The three victims bled profusely.

Police Sgt. Robert Olsen said the bodies were found after he received a telephone call to investigate an auto accident.

The auto crashed into a home owned by Rudolf Kornfeind. Little damage was done to the house.

Mrs. Kornfeind told The Associated Press she was awakened about 3:45 by a loud crash and a screech of brakes.

"My husband and I jumped out of bed and then we heard shots. My husband called police and I looked out the window," she said.

"I saw a black car speeding away in a southerly direction. Then the police came."

Olsen said skid marks made by the victims' sports car indicated the auto had been jammed into reverse gear, plowed across the Kornfeinds' lawn and smashed into the house.

"The right front window of the car was shattered, apparently by the shots. Police said the car was owned by Phillip Scavo."

Elmwood Park is a community of about 23,000 residents. It borders the west side of Chicago.

Japan, U. S. Team in Rocket Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japan and the United States fired a jointly launched ionosphere probing rocket today.

The experiment, consisting of separate Japanese and U.S. probes attached to a Nike-Cajon rocket, was sent aloft from Wallops Island, Va. It was the first in a planned program of three.

The rocket reached an altitude of 75 miles and then plunged into the Atlantic Ocean.

Two Japanese scientists were on hand with experts of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at the launching.

They were Dr. Kunio Hirao, chief scientist for the Radio Research Laboratory at Tokyo, and Toshio Muraoka, scientist with the Yokohama Electric Co., Tokyo.

The Japanese experiment consisted of a gold-coated sphere half an inch in diameter, attached to a two-foot boom that flipped out from the side of the rocket.

Also aboard was a U.S. Langmuir probe of a type often used to record the electron temperatures of the ionosphere, the layer of the upper atmosphere that serves to reflect radio messages back to the earth.

The Japanese device, developed independently, can measure both electron temperature and density at the same time.

NASA said that if it proves effective, the Japanese experiment may enable space scientists to use one instrument instead of two to obtain the two measurements.

Vaccinations Best Control of Rabies

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal grand jury today indicted U.S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Co. and two other steel companies on charges of conspiring to fix prices and rig bids.

You can get your dog protected against rabies by taking him to the City Hall lawn on Saturday, April 28, between 8 and 5 p. m. Dr. Herbert Rogers, Veterinarian, will administer the vaccine for $1.00 per head. In the event of rain the place of vaccination will be moved to the used car lot at Third and Shover Streets.

Every effort should be made to get all the dogs in Hope and surrounding area vaccinated, said Mr. Caldwell.

Outbreaks of rabies among dogs can be controlled through vaccination, says County Agent Calvin Caldwell.

Police said Phillip Scavo was shot once in the left side of the neck. Marianne Martarone was shot twice in the head and Ronald Scavo had a neck wound. The three victims bled profusely.

Ranger Crashes Into Moon; Big U. S. Advance

By RALPH DIGHTON

GOLDSTONE, Calif. (AP) — The United States scored a major advance in space today when the crippled spacecraft Ranger 4 crash-landed on the far side of the moon.

It was this country's first success in seven attempts to land a piece of hardware on the moon and virtually duplicated the feat of Russia's Lunik II which hit the moon Sept. 12, 1959.

Although there was no way of seeing the actual impact, scientists said Ranger 4's trajectory before passing behind the moon assured that it would land in the predicted area.

The 780-pound vehicle, launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Monday, made the 321,486-mile journey to the moon in 64 hours.

It passed the sunlit left half of the moon at an altitude of about 900 miles, aimed at a spot one-fourth of the way around on the back side.

Scientists calculated its speed at impact at 1,963 miles an hour. Electronic failures kept Ranger 4 from completing most of its missions. It carried several scientific instruments, including a television camera to take close-up pictures of the moon's surface. But a timer designed to operate these devices went haywire shortly after launch.

Pious Russians Denounce U. S. Testing

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA (AP) — Russia's Semyon K. Tsarapkin violently denounced American nuclear tests today but did not walk out of the three-nation test ban talks.

Tsarapkin sat through the two-hour meeting of the test ban subcommittee of the 17-nation disarmament conference without staging the walkout threatened last week by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin.

The deadlocked subcommittee met under the chairmanship of U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean. Dean said the subcommittee would meet again next week and added:

"There was not the slightest suggestion of a walkout."

Zorin said last week the Geneva negotiations would come to an end if the United States started its new test series.

In a plenary session of the conference earlier today, Zorin angrily described the American tests as "an aggressive act directed against the whole world" but made no move to walk out of the conference. He did not attend the subcommittee meeting, where Tsarapkin usually is the negotiator.

Tsarapkin told newsmen the subcommittee did not set a date for the next meeting.

"This will be fixed by consultation," he said.

WASHINGTON — Scientists seek to determine whether first blast in new U.S. nuclear test series yields significant data for improving atomic weapons; Soviets expected to begin new round of tests highlighting East-West tensions.

MOSCOW — Soviet commentator charges President Kennedy with telling "biggest lie" when he said last March he did not want tests; says "new round in the nuclear arms race has been started."

Russian officials at U.N. say American tests "will upset balance" of nuclear strength that Soviets equalized with series last year.

GENEVA — Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator Arthur H. Dean tells 17 nation disarmament conference quick and permanent ban on nuclear testing remains prime objective of Washington policy and negotiations for test ban must continue.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin tells conference the new American tests were "an aggressive act directed against the world which has pushed us closer to the abyss of inevitable war." Says Soviet Union compelled "take necessary measures to protect its security," presumably meaning new series of Soviet tests.

LONDON — Western Allies blame Soviet Union for opening the space age reach to the moon with a spaceship which missed the moon by 4,700 miles early in January 1959, and then sailed far beyond to become a tiny man-made planet of the sun.

With perfect aim, the Soviets hit the moon eight months later with Lunik II, emblazoned with the hammer-and-sickle emblem and an inscription reading "Union of the Soviet Socialist Republics."

In October 1959, the Soviets sent out Lunik III which caught a good look at the hidden side of the moon, and transmitted television pictures back to earth before the spacecraft burned up in the earth's atmosphere.

Those pictures showed mountains and valleys and plains or "seas" similar to those on the visible face of the moon.

The U.S. Pioneer IV, launched March 3, 1959, came close to the moon, before it wandered off to become a man-made prisoner of the sun. Ranger III, shot up last June, 26, missed by many thousands of miles and also now is circling the sun.

Ranger 4 failed in its primary missions, including taking TV pictures of the moon minutes before it slammed to destruction.

But somewhere now it has gouged its signature of U.S. intentions to send human explorers to the moon.

Russians Send Up a Satellite

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union today announced the launching of a new artificial earth satellite, fourth in the latest series.

Moscow Radio said the new sputnik is named Cosmos 4. No. 3 was launched Tuesday, the same day the United States sent a Ranger rocket toward the moon. The Ranger hit the moon today.

Cosmos 1 was fired March 16 and Cosmos 2 April 6 after a relatively long period of Soviet inactivity in space.

There was no suggestion that today's shot was manned.

U. S. Moon Visitor Was the Second

Says Slash in Overtime to Aid Jobless

By NORMAN WALKER Associated Press Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Close to 10 million jobs could be created if the substantial overtime being worked in manufacturing industries could be somehow eliminated and the work turned over to the unemployed.

One of the major inequities of the nation's economic situation is that, with millions unemployed, workers who have jobs are earning almost unprecedented earnings because of a great deal of overtime at bonus rates.

The government reports that factory workers, for example, averaged 2.6 hours of overtime a week during March.

If these overtime hours were divided to workers already on factory payrolls and idled employees hired to do the work, a sizable amount would be made in the nation's 4.4 million unemployed to the total would be reduced by more if the same thing were done in nonmanufacturing industries.

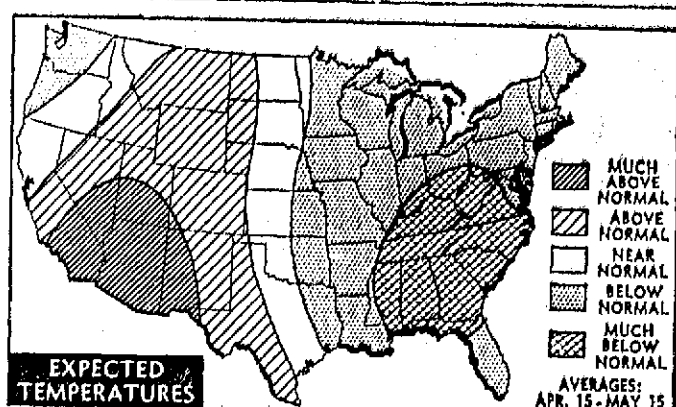

Why isn't this done? Why do employers prefer to pay workers times their regular rate of pay for substantial amounts of overtime, rather than recall experienced workers, still on layoff from the recession, to do the work at the cheaper straight time rate of pay?

The answer, according to the experts, is that while a certain amount of overtime work is always necessary because of rush jobs and need for particularly skilled workmen, the situation is aggravated now by several factors.

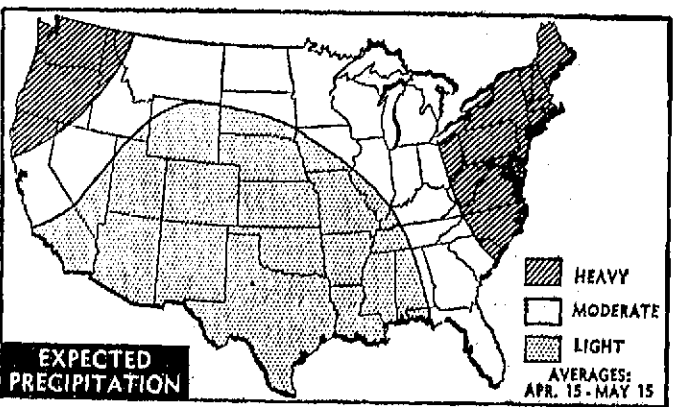

Employers hesitate to take on responsibilities involved in hiring new workers when they are uncertain about long-term business conditions.

Another reason is the cost of fringe benefits. It has become cheaper in some cases to pay the overtime premium for extra hours than to take back former workers and the obligations for fringe benefit costs and payroll taxes. With one worker these costs are paid only once, with two workers twice.

The cost differential favoring overtime is not always true, but it is in enough cases now when

FOUND SAFE — THREE COLLEGE students were reunited with their families in Trenton, Ga., after they had spent almost 70 hours trapped on a mud ledge in Case Cave under Lookout Mountain. As some 125 rescue workers searched for them, the boys clung to the ledge behind a 60-foot mud wall they were unable to scale. # Pulaski Hurt by Hospital Patient Quota

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Apparently only Little Rock and Pulaski County will be affected adversely to any degree by a proposed reduction in patient quotas for hospital care at the University Medical Center.

Quotas will be reduced for all counties and cities, effective July 1, but only Little Rock and Pulaski County consistently use their maximum quotas.

The percentage formula for figuring quotas is not being changed, but Medical Center will begin calculating quotas on a base of 340 maximum beds, instead of 450 as now.

Actually, the center never has had 450 beds in service. That's capacity. Right now it is operating 317 beds but it expects to open 23 new ones before July 1, hence the 340-bed base for figuring quotas.

A Medical Center spokesman said Chicot, Cleburne, Cleveland, Logan, Lonoke, Monroe and Woodruff counties have exceeded their quotas one or more times in the past six months, but they normally fail to reach the quota.

North Little Rock has exceeded its quota frequently in the past, the spokesman said, but the patient load from North Little Rock has fallen off since a new hospital was opened there.

Little Rock's quota will drop from 702 patient days to 618 on July 1. Pulaski County's will fall from 408 to 220.

Quotas are assigned to county and city governments which use them to get care for indigent patients. When a governmental unit exceeds its quota, it is required to pay for extra patients.

Normally, a center spokesman said, the governmental units simply quit sending patients when the quota is reached.

The patient quota system was established by a 1959 law designed

Thinks Ridan Is Better Horse

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — "Ridan" proved six or seven times that he is a better horse. I think he'll beat Crimson Satan any time."

So said confident trainer Moody Jolley as the Nantallah colt prepared to battle it out with Crimson Satan and seven other 3-year-olds in today's $25,000-added Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland Race Course.

Ridan was favored in the 1 mile race, the last distance prep before the Kentucky Derby May 5 in Louisville.

Crimson Satan, who was judged last year's juvenile champion in two polls, was expected to give Ridan the most competition in the race for Derby eligibles.

Ridan, Crimson Satan, and T. Allie Grissom's Roman Line, winner of last week's Fore-runner Purse, carried top weight of 12 pounds.

Oil Allowables

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Oil and Gas Commission, meeting here Wednesday, re-set the daily maximum oil allowable for the next three months at 85,000 barrels. The Commission normally meets at El Dorado but moved Wednesday's quarterly session here to precede the Arkansas Oil and Gas Institute which opens today.

Lower Truck Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Industrial Development Commission said Wednesday lower freight rates on truckload shipments of cotton and cloth and yarn into the state have been negotiated.

The AIDC said the new rate would become effective late in May and would lower from $2.45 to $1.69 the charge per 100 pounds on truck shipments from the Carolinas to garment manufacturers.

Parking Lots Headache to Grocers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office declined today to settle a controversy about unauthorized use of grocery store parking lots at Jonesboro.

Jonesboro city attorney Charles Frierson III had written that grocery owners had asked the city to help them enforce a parking time limit on their lots.

Frierson asked if the city had authority to do this under Arkansas law.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Sam Boyce advised Frierson that the law does not specifically grant such authority, but that under police powers given a city, Jonesboro might pass an ordinance governing such parking if it can be proved to be in "interest of the health, safety or welfare of the community."

Boyce said an existing ordinance prohibiting parking on private property without the owner's

Husband Sets Himself Up as Censor

By HELEN WORDEN-ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My daughter's husband opens all her mail and censors every letter. Last week I forwarded her a few of your columns. Before her very eyes he tore the columns into small bits along with my letter. Then he had the nerve to write me, demanding that I send her no more such clippings. This made me mad and upset her.

I contend that her mail is none of his business; not that she has anything to conceal, but she is entitled to some privacy, even though married. Don't you agree? My poor daughter jumps every time that spying son-in-law of mine cracks the whip. He has 99 per cent of the say to her 1 per cent. She might as well be in jail. He won't even let her visit us. And to think he's a member of our family!

I often say to my husband, "What have we done to deserve this blight?" In addition to being a spy, he's an oaf; weighs so much he breaks every chair he sits in when he comes to our house. All brawn and no brain. My daughter is the canary bird type; sweet, glib, sings as she works — when she has something to sing about. Poor darling, how she was ever attracted to that lummox is beyond me! What, if anything, can be done to stop him opening her mail? —Distracted Mother

Dear Distracted: Opening another's mail is a criminal offense but, unless your daughter registers a legal protest, nothing can be done about the case in question. Such action could precipitate a divorce. Does she want to go that far?

This is for her, not you, much as you love her, to decide. On the basis of what you tell me, both are immature human beings, incapable, as of now, of managing themselves, much less their marriage. Help them to help themselves by being understanding, ever-patient and companionable to both. But, for heaven's sake, stay in the background. He is probably defiant because you are belligerent. You can't expect an adolescent to be an adult. This business of prying into his wife's affairs betrays an insecurity, typical of adolescence. Just because he appears to be a man physically, doesn't mean he is equally developed mentally. Nor, for that matter, is your daughter, else she, not you, would be in charge. Encourage them to associate with other young couples — those who are happily married. Let them learn by example. If they love each other, they will.

Dear Helen: This place is bugging us. We live with our grandparents and father. I'm 14, my brother 15. We're both freshmen in high school. Our father works nights and sleeps days, therefore he hasn't much patience with us. Up to a few years ago we got along fine. The trouble started when my brother and I began growing up and getting independent. Then things changed. Our grandparents drove our mother out. They're doing the same thing to us. They gripe all the time about how much we cost them, what they do for us, and when if ever are we going to leave them in peace. We're helpless because permission would not cover the grocery lot situation.

In another opinion, the attorney general's office advised Supt. W. L. Fulmer of the state Tuberculosis Sanatorium that the hospital can furnish medical information about a patient to state and county health authorities even if the patient has requested that his record be kept secret. No information can be furnished a family physician, however, unless the patient agrees.

Fulmer said he needed the opinion to cover the case of a patient who has refused to return from a leave of absence.

Daddy goes to work, we are that desperate to get away from here. It's hell. Not having a mother or anybody to really care about us, we don't know which way to turn. Can you help us? —Desperate

Dear Desperate: Your grandparents evidently have some hold on your father. How about seeing him alone at work and talking to him along the lines you have written me? After all, he is responsible for your welfare. If he should refuse to accept that re-

Five Escapees Are Captured

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Pine Bluff police picked up Tuesday five boys who escaped from the Arkansas Boys Training School here Monday night.

Four of the boys were picked up, two blocks west of Highway 65 north within the city limits. A motorcycle policeman spotted the boys between 8:50 and 9:30 p.m.

A fifth boy was picked up as he apparently was returning to the school Tuesday afternoon.

Dean Rowell, superintendent of the school, said the four boys picked up Tuesday night apparently weren't making much of an effort to get out of town.

Many of the boys get to thinking after they leave," Rowell said, "and then they wish they hadn't."

Conway Quits Gas Rate Hike Fight

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The Conway City Council voted Tuesday night to withdraw from a Supreme Court appeal of a Public Service Commission ruling allowing Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co a rate increase.

The council told City Atty. Robert W. Henry to petition the court to withdraw Conway's appeal.

Pine Bluff and El Dorado are the cities leading the appeal of the rate, which boosted minimum charges by 70 cents a meter last year.

Henry said he had gotten a letter asking the City of Conway to pay $500 as its part in the appeal. He said some charge may be assessed against Conway even though it was withdrawing.

The Medicine Cabinet Is Hope Chest

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The medicine cabinet has become the hope chest of civilization.

A man is no longer judged so much by the company he keeps as by the number of pills, potions and lotions he stocks in his bathroom storehouse of health and beauty.

There was a time when a bathroom was a place where you went to take a bath. Today a bathroom is a combination clinic, drugstore and beauty parlor.

"The desire to take medicine," said wise Sir William Osler, "is perhaps the greatest feature which distinguishes man from animals."

Medicine used to be merely the candy of the middle-aged and the elderly. Now it has become a compulsive passion with us, and we all seem to be in the grip of a kind of pharmaceutical voodooism.

We no longer take medicine merely to cure what ails us. We can't wait that long anymore. We swallow all kinds of medicines now to forestall all kinds of ills, real or imaginary, that might even possibly afflict us. We coat our insides with medicine as if it were an interior protective blanket.

Many a man now alive can remember when the family medicine cabinet contained only some iodine and castor oil for the children, some aspirin for Dad and Mom and some baking soda and laxative tablets for the old folks.

One wonders how they all managed to live so long and feel so well amid such bleak medical pessimism. Not even a single wonder drug in the entire house!

Today the two-bathroom home is a necessity not because the average family requires two bathrooms—but because it simply has to have two medicine cabinets in which to stack all the boxes and bottles containing new miracle lozenges and ointments for everything from athlete's foot to eczema.

As a matter of fact, practically every part of the modern home has become something of a disaster area. You'll find medicines from the kitchen refrigerator to the drawer in the bedside table. Sometimes they even get absentmindedly swept under the living room rug.

But the real miracle of our times is this—why, with all this medicine taking, doesn't every man get more fun out of life than his grandfather did?

A fellow now who wakes up in the morning feeling good has an almost irresistible impulse to rush into the bathroom and swallow a tranquilizing pill. We are so used to chasing health that when we actually gain it we suspect something is wrong with us.

Loans Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Arkansas communities, Fort Smith and Magazine, received loans Monday from the Community Facilities Administration. Fort Smith received a $30,000 interest-free loan to plan sewage facilities estimated at $8.5 million. Magazine's loan will provide construction of an $86,000 water distribution system and a $41,000 well and storage facilities.

Chapter 34

"John Thatcher was next in line at the ticket counter when he had a sudden insight. Jeannie Novak, he was sure, would use the word 'proof' in a simple, nonmetaphorical sense. She had the kind of fundamental simplicity that would look upon proof as something specific... something concrete."

"Ticket sir?" an infinitely lived voice requested. He produced his ticket: the clerk went through complex motions involving rubber stamps and pencils before returning it to him.

"Is the plane late?" Thatcher inquired. The clerk eyed Thatcher with exaggerated patience, then said, "It's leaving in about an hour and a half. You'll be called, sir."

Thatcher eyed him with equal distaste. "Well, then, I think that I'll check my brief case."

The clerk looked at the eminent, then at the portable brief case, then at Thatcher. An impatient, offensive and inappropriate remark died on his lips.

On the left, three blue doors, labeled, "Flight Room," "Pilot's Room," "Traffic Room." And under each sign was the additional information: "No admittance." Thatcher tossed a mental coin, then without knocking opened the door marked "Traffic Room."

Three men were sitting in front of a long, paper-covered table, piled high with graphs and charts. One of them, a bullet-headed blond with a crew cut, looked at the intruder, with a touch of Texas in his voice, he spoke: "Can't you read, Pop?" No admittance. That means you."

John Thatcher prided himself on the fact that, no matter what the provocation, he never lost his temper. There were, however, occasions when he allowed himself the luxury of what some of his colleagues on the Street referred to as "a show of force."

"My name," he said in an icy voice, "is John Pultnam Thatcher. I am not only a vice-president of the Sloan Guaranty Trust, but a member of the board of directors of American Airlines."

Texas' mouth was slightly opened. Thatcher noted with some satisfaction. None of these men was capable of checking on the truth of his claims, and he could, after all, prove he was with the Sloan.

"I have been willing to put up with a good deal of incidental discourtesy in the last half hour, but that is attributable to the emergency weather conditions. I am prepared to overlook it. Now, however, it has become a matter of some urgency that I get certain information from the airlines. Either you find out... or tell me where I can get the information. Quickly."

Texas stiffened as the last word was barked out; one of the other men leaped to his feet. "Yes, sir," he said in a frightened voice. "Just tell me—us, what it is you want to know."

Thatcher favored the group with a long look of appraisal. When Thatcher finally boarded

Girl Escapees Charged With Manslaughter

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two teenage escapees from a Louisiana girls institution involved in a high-speed automobile chase and crash that killed a pedestrian and injured his wife were bound over to circuit court Wednesday on charges of involuntary manslaughter.

The two, Bettie Jean Childress, 15 of New Iberia, La., driver of the car, and Carol Marie Pickett, 16, of Baytown, La., were bound over from traffic court, where they were fined $500 each and given six month sentences.

The fines and sentences, for traffic violations and a misdemeanor escape charge, were the maximum under the law.

The two girls have been held in city jail here since the April 12 accident, in lieu of the $1,000 bonds.

Police said the two escaped April 10 from the State Training school for Girls at Pineville, La. and stole three cars on their way to Little Rock.

They were apprehended the day of the crash, police said, while trying to swap license plates on a car and were ordered to follow officers to headquarters.

En route to headquarters the Childress girl sped away from the procession and was chased at high speeds, police said.

The car went out of control at a downtown intersection and careened into a store front. A. P. Trobey of Benton, Ark., standing in front of the store, was struck and later died. His wife, standing beside him, was seriously injured.

3 Persons Die in Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three persons died in accidents on Arkansas highways Wednesday.

Two-year-old Virginia Gail Williams was killed at Lewisville when she was struck by a truck. State Trooper Ben Cavins said the child ran into the side of a truck driven by Billy Ed Erhart of Butler, Mo. Cavins said no charges were filed.

Claude E. Johnson, 70, of Goodwin was killed near Goodwin when he was struck by a car on U.S. Highway 70. State Police said Johnson was walking in the middle of the road when he was struck by a car driven by Harold Pryor of Memphis.

In Little Rock, G. W. Sheldon, 61, died when his car struck a bridge abutment. The deaths brought to eight the total number of fatal accidents in the state this week. Five died in traffic accidents, two were drowned and one burned to death.

Air Test Starts

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Air Force and ground units of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization launched today the week-long exercise "Air Cobra" aimed at testing the alliance's tactical air power against a possible aggressor.

a plane at nine o'clock, Captain Peter Self was seated on Jeannie Novak's sofa for the last time. Jeannie was produced by her two male relatives and grimly ensconced in a chair, where she now sat, a picture of sullen discontent, flanked on either side by her grimly disapproving father and husband.

"All right, so I went to see him. He was alone in town, and I was going to ask him to spend Christmas with us. There's nothing wrong with that," she whined.

"And what time was it when you got there?" asked Self.

"It was around 11:30. It took me a long time to get there on account of the snow," she said defiantly.

"You were carrying a Christmas wreath?"

"Yes, I just happened to pick one up that evening."

"Well, tell me what happened in your own words."

"The living room was empty. I called, but there wasn't any answer. I started to look around. The study was the last room I went to. He was there—on the floor—there was blood—his head—"

"her voice started to rise, and she pressed a handkerchief to her mouth. Stan leaned over to put his hand on her shoulder.

"Jeannie, honey, take it easy. You've got to tell Pete."

"I leaned down to see if he was still alive. When I touched him, he was cold. But there was some cardboard in the blood next to his head. I picked it up before I realized what it was." Her hands were twisting her handkerchief convulsively.

"It was an airplane baggage check. I knew Roy was supposed to be on a plane. He had ideas about Bob and me. I thought he had gone to see Bob and lost his head."

"And what did you do with the check, Mrs. Novak?" asked Self.

"I kept it. It's here now. I was going to give it to Roy."

Self exhaled slowly. This stupid and disagreeable woman had had one moment of good sense. She had not destroyed the one piece of solid evidence.

Lawyer Given 18 Months

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Federal Judge John E. Miller sentenced Fred Peppard, a Hot Springs lawyer, to 18 months in prison for receiving, concealing and disposing of $12,500 in stolen government bonds.

Peppard, who practiced law in El Dorado before moving to Hot Springs, was convicted April 19. The bonds allegedly were stolen March 5, 1961, in a safe burglary at the Fava Oil & Gas Distributing Co. in Duncan, Miss.

Leon Easterling of Greenville, Miss., who is serving a federal prison term, testified that he and two companions committed the robbery and turned the bonds over to Peppard.

Peppard, who pleaded innocent, denied any knowledge of the bonds, but he admitted he had told FBI agents he had thrown certain bonds into Lake Hamilton near his home.

Several years' experimentation on St. Croix, largest of the Virgin Islands, demonstrated that avocados are well adapted to the island. Six trees are being offered to each resident free of charge.

Larsen Proves Good Stopper for Giants

Associated Press Sports Writer
Don (Perfect Game) Larsen, who had the world on a string in 1950 but was tied up in knots four years later, has successfully retraced his path and stepped in as a stopper for the pennant-hungry San Francisco Giants.
Making his third appearance, Larsen, 32, a right-hander, came on in the sixth inning Wednesday night with Pittsburgh threatening, struck out the side, and allowed only one run the rest of the way in the Giants' 8-3 victory over the National League leaders.
It gave the only pitcher ever to hurl a perfect game in World Series history—he accomplished the feat for the New York Yankees against the Brooklyn Dodgers in '56—a record of one save and two victories in his three outings.
The save by Larsen, who could not find the plate in 1960 when he was 1-10 at Kansas City, further enhanced the trade by the Giants that sent young pitchers Don Zant and Ed Fisher plus outfielder Bob Farley to the Chicago White Sox for Larsen and Billy Pierce.
Elsewhere the Chicago Cubs knocked off the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-6. Milwaukee topped Philadelphia 7-2. Cincinnati added to the New York Mets' problems 7-1, and St. Louis and Houston played to a 5-5 tie in 17 innings. The game was halted by curfew and will have to be replayed.
In the American League, Boston defeated Washington 7-1, the Los Angeles Angels clipped Cleveland 6-2, the New York Yankees edged Chicago's White Sox 7-6. Minnesota beat Baltimore 3-1, and Kansas City whipped Detroit 9-8. The Cubs won it with four in.

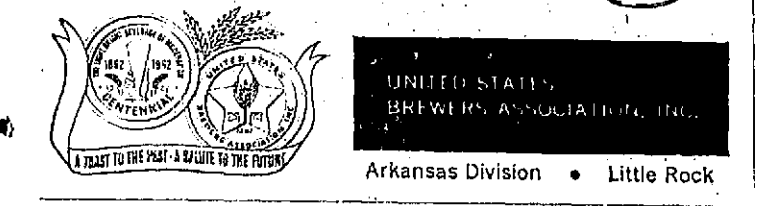

the eighth off reliever Larry Sherry (1-1), Ernie Banks tying it 6-6 with his fourth home run and Andre Rodgers clinching it with a three-run homer. Rodgers wound up with five runs batted in and provided Don Elston (1-0) with the victory. The Dodgers built their edge on homers by Duke Snider and Willie Davis.
Ron Piche (1-0), making his first start for the Braves, kept the Phils at bay with a four hitler while Eddie Mathews' sixth homer, in the third inning, followed by Joe Adcock's solo smash tagged Chris Short (0-1) with the defeat. Piche gave up two hits and two runs in the first inning, but was virtually untouchable thereafter.
Vada Pinson stroked a double and two singles, raising his total runs batted in to 22, with a pair against the Mets in support of Bob Purkey's four-hit pitching. Purkey (3-0) went the route for the first time this season. Bob Miller (0-2) took the loss.
The Cardinals forged the 5-5 tie in the ninth when Ken Boyer drove in the run that knotted it with a single off Dick Farrell. The Colts, who trailed 4-0 after four innings, had moved ahead in the eighth on Merritt Ranew's first major-league homer and a run-scoring double by pitcher Jim Golden.
The game was the longest extra inning night game, by time, ever played in the NL.
State Defeats St. Louis U.
JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A sacrifice fly by Tom Dix in the eleventh inning gave Arkansas State College a 3-2 baseball victory over St. Louis University here Wednesday.
A-State picked up runs in the second and fifth inning. St. Louis tallied one in the sixth and tied the score 2-2 in the ninth.
Relief pitcher Terry Everett was credited with the win. A-State has a 6-11 season record.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN ARKANSAS, General Albert Pike issued a proclamation calling for the enlistment of two infantry and two artillery regiments for service "in the Indian Country and elsewhere." Arkansas soldiers in 1862 enjoyed refreshing beer... just as Arkansans today continue to find pleasure in the beverage of moderation.
For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southern hospitality to any occasion. Arkansans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.
TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Indians Lose But Cling to First Place

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Towerling Gene Conley, rescued from mayhem on the hardwoods by the arrival of the baseball season, is rewarding the Boston Red Sox with a quick start that could propel the right-hander to his best season in the majors.
The multi-talented Conley, 31, won his second in three decisions Wednesday, limiting Washington to five hits and smashing a two-run homer to aid his own cause in a 7-1 Red Sox triumph that sent the Senators reeling with their seventh consecutive defeat.
It's one of the fastest starts of his nine-year career for the 6-foot-8 fire-baller who broke his left hand and jammed two fingers on his pitching hand while playing with New York in the American Basketball League this past season.
Faced with the ever-present problem of which sport gets first call on his services, Conley took his mauling hands and reported to the Red Sox at the start of spring training.
Now in top shape from his early arrival and taking his regular place in the rotation from the start of the campaign, Conley is hopeful of posting his top mark. His previous best was 12-7 in 1959. Jim Landis led the offensive with Philadelphia. He was 11-14 with Boston in his American League debut last year.
Cleveland held first place despite a 6-2 loss to the Los Angeles Angels. The New York Yankees edged the Chicago White Sox 7-6. Minnesota snapped Baltimore's four-game winning streak with a 3-1 triumph and Kansas City outlasted Detroit 9-8 in other games.
In the National League, San Francisco belted Pittsburgh 8-3, the Chicago Cubs defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-6, Milwaukee whipped Philadelphia 7-2. Cincinnati beat the New York Mets 7-1. St. Louis and Houston struggled to a 5-5 tie in 17 innings. The game was halted by curfew and will be replayed.
The Red Sox struck for five runs in the fourth against the Senators' rookie Jim Hannon (0-1), getting three on Frank Malzone's homer and two on Conley's shot. Gene had Washington blanked on two hits for seven innings before singles by Bob Johnson and Ken Reizer and John Schaefer's double brought a run across in the eighth.
The Angels snapped the Indians' three-game winning streak with rookie right hander Bob Belinsky (2-0) hurling a four-hitter and allowing only one earned run. Leon Wagner's four inning homer off Pedro Ramos (0-1), making his first start since he was acquired by Cleveland in a trade with Minnesota, put Los Angeles ahead to stay.
Hector Lopez' two-run single with the bases loaded in the ninth capped a four-run rally that won it for the Yankees and Rolie Sheldon (1-0). The White Sox had built a 6-3 lead with a 17-hit attack that chased Whitey Ford as his previous best was 12-7 in 1959. Jim Landis led the offensive with Philadelphia. He was 11-14 with Boston in his American League debut last year.
Cleveland held first place de-homer with two out in the ninth beat the Orioles and Chuck Estrada (1-2). Don Lee (1-1) won it limiting the Orioles to three hits for eight innings before coming out so Lemon could hit. Ray Moore pitched the ninth. Baltimore's lone run came on Jackie Brandt's homer in the seventh.

The A's capitalized on five Tiger errors for seven unearned runs to gain their fifth win in six games. The victory went to starter Jerry Walker 3-0, who had 16 leave in the sixth when wildness led to four Detroit runs. Danny McDevitt and Bob Grim finished up. Rookie Doug Gallagher (0-2) lost it.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — S. B. McCall, 74, of El Dorado is seeking a post as state Senator from the 13th district. He is opposed by Incumbent Sen. Marshall Shackelford, also of El Dorado, who is seeking a third term. McCall served as a senator in 1925 and 1927.

Test Likely to Improve Efficiency

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Scientists today checked preliminary data from the first blast in the new U.S. nuclear test series to see if it yielded significant information on improving the efficiency of American atomic weapons.

The new series got under way Wednesday over remote Christmas Island in the Pacific with the explosion of a research and development device, rather than a finished atomic weapon. A similar device likely will be used for the second blast—expected in a few days—as the United States pursues one of the major goals of the new test series: greater weapons efficiency.

Reaction in the wake of the opening blast was as expected. In Congress, Democratic and Republican leaders said there had been no alternative but to test again in the atmosphere, the Soviet Union loosed a vehement attack on the United States and from other nations there was a mixed chorus of denunciation and approval.

Some U.S. officials predicted anew that Russia would now follow through and soon with another test series of her own.

Convict Is Questioned on Beatings

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — An Alabama ex-convict was questioned about a series of beatings here after he was arrested in connection with the burglary of a women's dormitory.

But Police Chief Hollis Spencer said today he did not think the man, Ralph C. Osborne, 26, had anything to do with the beatings.

Spencer said Osborne admitted breaking into Fulbright Hall early last Saturday and taking $25 and clothes, a radio, a suitcase and other items. One of the women awakened to find a man burglarizing her room.

Osborne was arrested in Norman, Okla., Monday night where police said he was trying to break into a dormitory at the University of Oklahoma. He was turned over to Fayetteville officers.

Spencer said he had no evidence that Osborne was connected with the beating of five women since Christmas. Osborne was held on an open charge, but Spencer said burglary and grand larceny charges would be filed against him.

Spencer said Osborne was released from an Alabama prison last September after serving nine years of a 25 year sentence for car theft. Oklahoma officers said he was driving a stolen car when he was arrested in Norman, Spencer said.

Spencer said he thought the beatings were the work of a sadist. Four young women were attacked as they slept. None were sexually molested or robbed. Last Thursday an elderly woman cook at the university was attacked and beaten as she walked to work in the early morning hours.

Spencer said he believed the attacker was connected with a certain department of the university, either as a student or in some other capacity.

Baseball Oldtimers Released

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A couple of right-handers who once possessed two of the proudest names in baseball — Robin Roberts and Clem Labine — have been given their walking papers.

Roberts, who was baseball's winningest pitcher over one six-year period for the Philadelphia Phillies, drew his outright release from the New York Yankees Wednesday. Labine, a top relief man and pitching mainstay of the old Brooklyn Dodgers, was released by the New York Mets today.

Roberts is 35. Labine is 36. Each was overlooked in the expansion draft. Their outright release is the second for each. Each may be at the end of his baseball career, though Roberts says he doesn't intend to quit. Labine was not immediately available for comment.

Roberts, who won 234 games with the Phillies, was near tears as he packed his bag in the Yankee dressing room.

"I want to stay in baseball as an active player," he said. "Naturally, I am a little shocked at this release, but I think I am still capable of pitching."

He didn't pitch an inning for the Yankees this season. New York picked him up after he had been given his outright release by the Phillies after a 1-10 season last year.

"He didn't fit into our relief plans and I couldn't work him into the starting rotation," Yankee Manager Ralph Houk said. "It is our feeling that he should have every chance to get another job and it is for that reason that we are releasing him at this time."

Labine, who made a career as a relief man, played on four National League champion teams — Brooklyn in 1953, 55 and 56 and the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1958. He and catcher Joe Ginsberg were released from the Mets to make way for catcher Harry Chitt, purchased outright from Cleveland, and right-handed pitcher

Screwworms Hit in Warm Weather

Warm weather is bringing ideal conditions for the spread of screwworms in Arkansas. Last year 127 cases were reported and identified. And there was no way of telling how many cases went unreported. The damage from screwworms runs into millions of dollars each year according to officials.

Dr. Paul Beeton, Animal Disease and Eradication Branch of USDA and Dr. David Isen, State Veterinarian, warn ranchers and farmers that the infestations could become serious. They say that early detection and reporting of infestations are essential to a successful eradication program.

With the warm weather, screwworm flies are no longer confined to southern areas. They can be expected to head in all directions from these warmer climates. The flies lay their eggs in wounds on animals and the screwworms develop from them.

Beeton and Isen suggest that farmers and ranchers examine animals regularly for any cuts, scratches or open wounds. Collect maggots or eggs that may be present in these wounds. Place them in alcohol or water. Give to the county agent or other local authority for positive identification. Treat wound with EQ 335, smear 62, or Korlan. Screwworms can kill an untreated animal in 10 days. Don't move animals from any area unless all wounds are treated. In addition, spray animals with Co-Ral or Korlan, according to directions on the label, before moving them from an infested county. Don't accept or move animals from infested states without previous inspection and treatment.

If these suggestions are followed it is believed that the loss from screwworms can be held to a minimum in Arkansas this year.

Soybean Yield Good on Late, Early Planting

Soybean acreage of early, early midseason and late midseason maturing varieties should be divided for more efficient yields. "Hempstead county growers can hedge against adverse weather conditions and harvest larger acreages per combine by dividing the total farm soybean acreage," Calvin Caldwell advises.

Yields of early maturing varieties, Hill, Dorman and Dorthcoy 67 were exceptionally good in 1961 in comparison to later maturing varieties. During years when late summer droughts occur, as in the fall of 1961, these varieties may produce higher yields than later maturing ones. Also, cold temperatures of soil set caused a reduction in later varieties in the 1961 growing season.

Longtime average yields of early varieties are generally lower than early midseason varieties, including Lee, Hood, Ogden and Ogden selections, and the later midseason variety Jackson. Even though the early variety produced well in 1961, growers need to continue to plant the larger percentage of their soybean acreage to later varieties which have tended to produce larger yields over several years averages.

Territory Swap Okayed by PSC

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Public Service Commission approved today a small territory exchange between Arkansas Power and Light Co. and the Ashley-Chicot Electric Co-operative.

The utility and the co-op agreed at a hearing that AP&L would take over a small amount of territory in Ashley County which had been allocated to the co-op, but was served by AP&L while the co-op would take some Union County territory it had been serving although the territory was allocated to AP&L.

The White River backwater area is a 44,000-acre triangle below the lower extremity of Crowley's Ridge. The station will be used to help drain the area in time of high water.

Timetable on Schedule for Apollo Orbit

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The great Saturn rocket is on schedule on a timetable to boost the three-man Apollo spaceship into orbit in late 1964—an important step toward placing the craft on the moon in this decade.

That was the status report given by Dr. Werner von Braun Wednesday after the second straight successful test-firing of the huge eight-engine booster.

Pouring 1.3 million pounds of thrust from the first-stage power plant, the 162-foot Saturn roared into a clear sky in an awesome display of flame and noise. The engines, spewing a 300 foot tail of fire, burned out as intended 15 seconds after launching, at an altitude of 35 miles, in what one National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman termed a "100 per cent successful performance."

The vehicle coasted upward to an altitude of 65 miles and there was destroyed deliberately by an electronic signal beamed from Cape Canaveral.

As the Saturn ripped apart, 95 tons of water carried for ballast by two dummy upper stages poured into the rarified air of the upper atmosphere and blossomed into a massive cloud of ice flakes. The cloud expanded in two seconds to a diameter of 8 to 10 miles and 72 seconds later dissipated in the atmosphere.

The loosening of the water was a secondary scientific experiment designed to gather data on "how quickly the equilibrium would establish itself in the upper atmosphere after it had been disturbed by sudden introduction of the water."

A radar device in a trucking plane detected "electrical discharge phenomena" near the cloud. This was created by ice droplets of different sizes striking one another, causing friction. Study of data from the experiment may take weeks.

Despite two complete successful flights of the world's largest

Public Works Bill Termed Money Raid

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Divided Senate Republicans fought a rear guard action today against a $2.6 billion public works proposal they called a raid on the Treasury and a potential presidential political weapon.

The tactical difficulty faced by the six GOP members of the Senate Public Works Committee—and it was shared by most of their party colleagues—lay in opposing the administration's proposal without being tagged as anti-public works.

Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-N.H., who foresaw possible effective political use of the program by President Kennedy, promised to come up with an alternative when the committee-approved measure is laid before the Senate later.

Prouty's aides said this was likely to be in the form of an amendment to limit presidentially directed expenditures to $600 million for chronic unemployment areas and to projects already authorized by Congress.

The Republicans generally appeared willing to take the political chance of opposing a long range provision under which President Kennedy would be authorized to spend up to $2 billion on projects he would select if a recession threatened.

Committee Democrats said in a majority report there was a "real and urgent need" for such authority. But the Republicans generally felt Congress could act swiftly or be called into special session if a depression loomed.

The committee-approved bill would permit the President under the standby power to start projects not previously authorized by Congress. By certain findings he could make federal money available on a 90-10 local matching

Khrushchev Has Become Quieter

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev seems quieter, perhaps because he's getting older. This, if true, would be comforting to the Western nervous system that he has kept a tangle.

This bubbly and imaginative man, just turned 68, has been notoriously impatient with delay and stuffed shirts. He acted as if under compulsion to get the show on the road, no matter what show.

But now for months, compared with the earlier Khrushchev, he has seemed rather withdrawn. There has been less flamboyance, in word and deed, less animal spirit, less thunder in his threats of lightning.

All that he seems that way to this writer, although it is easy to read too much into his periods of quietude between escapades. He has had them before and came charging back like a re-freshed bear.

An example of the slowing down in the Khrushchevian tempo—if that's what it is—was laid on the table this week with release of an interview he gave an American publisher, Gardner Cowles.

In the past Khrushchev seemed obsessed with the need for a summit, without such preliminaries as a meeting of foreign ministers to see if there could be any agreement before the top men got together.

But the interview with Cowles showed he has changed his mind. Now he says there should be a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting only if their diplomats can first negotiate agreements or if war threatens.

This doesn't sound like the bouncy, hard-driving Khrushchev of old. Nor was it his only recent change of heart, although it's always been tough to figure whether his many changes were in him or just in his tactics.

In an interview with American columnist Walter Lippmann in 1961 Khrushchev said Russia had never done any nuclear testing underground, and never would, because there is no value in small tactical weapons.

By April 13, 1962, he had changed. At that time, refusing the kind of nuclear test ban agreement the West wanted and knowing Kennedy would resume testing if he didn't, Khrushchev said:

In the future Russia would match all tests carried out by the West—whether underground, in the atmosphere, or in outer space. So his moments of calm after crises don't necessarily mean that he is getting tired.

Meanwhile, he's had some problems at home in this past year, despite some spectacular successes like orbiting men around the earth. One of them is the fact that the Russians have a miserable food supply.

This alone would be enough to make many a leader a little self-conscious about directing the destiny of the world before he could feed his own people better. It may have had a sobering effect on Khrushchev.

Western leaders will begin having uneasy moments if they be-bas. He could deal directly with cities without going through state governments. He could not spend more than 12.8 per cent of the total $2 billion in any one state. But by the same token he could spend all of it in eight key states if he chose.

The political implications of this were not lost on Prouty, who called the proposal in a statement of individual views "the longest reach for executive power I have ever witnessed."

He said marginal districts that might go either way in a congressional election "may find themselves the sudden recipients of federal largesse at key times in key campaigns."

Best Buys in Markets This Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's a new star at the supermarket this weekend—pork loins—for those who may have tired of steaks, fried chicken and, after Easter, all those hard-boiled eggs.

Loins are virtually a nationwide feature. One national chain is featuring rib ends at 45 cents a pound, up to 49 cents for loin halves, in its New York area outlets.

Steaks—especially cube steaks in the Southeast and sirloin in the Midwest—are good buys. So are beef roasts, especially chuck roasts.

Other pork cuts attractively priced include chops, bacon and spare ribs.

Broiler-fryers are another popular favorite that continues to sell invitingly.

Spring lambs are featured on the West Coast.

Dairy products continue economical with butter slipping a cent or two in many stores.

Vegetable attractions include asparagus, artichokes, cabbage, corn, greens, lettuce, onions, spinach, tomatoes and potatoes.

Fresh fruit counters feature grapefruit, oranges and apples with several new season attractions available regionally.

Strawberries are available in most areas, Florida watermelons are flowing into Southeastern markets and cantaloupe prices are beginning to fall.

Plain Cold Could Kill Astronauts

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—

America's astronauts may survive radiation, meteors and other hazards only to die of common colds during space flights, an Air Force scientist says.

The Air Force is concerned enough to have ordered extensive studies on probable effects of virus-caused ailments during space voyages.

The studies at the School of Aerospace Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base have dealt with two main areas, says Dr. Seymour S. Kaller, head of the virology laboratory:

1. Effects of the stresses of space on viruses carried by astronauts, and

2. Effects of the stresses of space on the astronauts carrying the viruses.

"Stresses" is a key word, because of medical discoveries

Judge Seeking Re-election

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Judge G. B. Colvin Jr. of Dermott filed with the secretary of state Tuesday for re-election in the 10th Judicial Circuit.

Colvin is seeking his second term. He won the office in 1958, after the death of Judge John Golden.

Colvin is in his third year as secretary-treasurer of the Arkansas Judicial Council, which includes Supreme Court Justices, chancellors and circuit judges in the state.

The 10th district includes Ashley, Bradley, Chicot, Cleveland, Dallas and Drew Counties.

Named Assessor

complex viruses—which cause colds—are affected by antibiotics, Kaller said. Others, such as polio, can be checked by preventive inoculations. But doctors have no specific weapons against most viruses.

Radiation causes mutations in living things, Kaller said. These changes could turn a normally harmless virus into a killer, or a killer into a harmless virus.

First Tests of Research Nature

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first explosions in a new series of U.S. nuclear tests probably will involve research devices intended to yield data on electromagnetic and other effects bearing on defense against missiles.

Later in the two- to three-month series in the Pacific will come proof tests of full nuclear weapons—including all those in the U.S. intercontinental ballistic missile arsenal and submarine-launched Polaris rockets.

Informed authorities said today this is the likely schedule, when President Kennedy signals the test go-ahead, maybe within the next few days.

Perhaps three or more of the tests will be at high altitudes ranging from about 30 miles to several hundred miles.

The biggest blast is expected to equal that of about 10 million tons of TNT—far below the 58 megatoner the Russians are said to have detonated in their test series, last fall.

Some of the test devices may be fired to high altitudes by missiles. Others will be placed on stands and still others carried into the sky by balloons.

Instruments placed at vantage points throughout the test area around Christmas and Johnston Islands will monitor the effects of these blasts. Among other methods, specially instrumented rockets will be sent up to gauge the fireballs and radiation.

The experts will chart the explosive yield of the devices, the pressures they create, the radiation they release, relationship of damage to distance from the blasts, effects of heat on various materials such as steel and concrete, impact on underground structures such as missile launching bases—these and many more.

The results will be studied and analyzed for months. From them scientists hope to gain knowledge they can translate into new and improved weapons and into missile defenses.

Among the effects to be watched most closely is the impact of electromagnetic emissions from nuclear blasts on radar and radio

"Let's Have A Picnic!"

To the young in heart, sandwich and picnic are synonymous. Little folks will settle for sandwiches in the backyard or on the porch and never mind the frills. They'll munch sandwiches with gusto in sunshine or under a dripping awning.

When the "let's have a picnic" cry echoes through the house, the mother who has baby foods on the shelf is ready for quick action. Gerber Junior Meats, for instance, blend smoothly with peanut butter and a spoonful or so of baby fruit. Creamy Cottage Cheese with Pineapple becomes a surprise spread when combined with jelly. And remember a dab of bright jelly for topping open-faced sandwiches. Of course fancy cut-outs make any picnic a real party.

Tempting spreads include a smooth blending of strained or junior fruit and peanut butter or a quick filling like this:

Combine 1 container (3 1/2 oz.)

communications. Conceivably an enemy nuclear explosion could cripple the vital radar and communications of a U.S. antimissile system, thus rendering it ineffective against follow-up missiles.

There also is the possibility that the explosion of a U.S. anti-missile warhead might black out the ground radar of its own system.

Burke was convicted of possessing more than the legal limit of whiskey in a dry county.

Also appealed today was a Jackson County case in which Clara Andrews sought $5,700 from the Victor Metal Products, Corp., on a contention that she was illegally discharged in violation of a union contract.

Circuit Judge Andrew Ponder found for the company and assessed court costs against the Andrews woman.

Unhurried Pace in Talks on Berlin

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin are setting an unhurried pace in their talks on Berlin.

They aren't expected to begin probing at the heart of the dispute until after Rusk returns from a round-the-world trip about mid-May.

The two diplomats met Monday—one week after their first conference—and the only reported result of the 50-minute session was Soviet acceptance of Rusk's suggestion that the new round of exploratory talks on Berlin be conducted here.

U.S. officials would not speculate on the reasons of the Kremlin's apparent satisfaction with going slow on Berlin. One possible explanation is that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is pleased with reported U.S. proposals aimed at breaking the Berlin deadlock such as a declaration of non-aggression between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations and the Communist Warsaw Pact members.

Monday's meeting was primarily procedural, State Department officials said. Dobrynin, they reported, did not bring a message, nor did he receive any from Rusk. The atmosphere was described as relaxed.

Files Articles of Incorporation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Articles of incorporation for the Arkansas Oilstone Co. of Hot Springs were filed today with the secretary of state.

The company can issue 1,000 shares of stock with no par value. Incorporators are Preston and Elsie Fox and Charles Hinz, all of Hot Springs.

Other corporate filings today included: Kitchen Corner, Inc., of Hot Springs, 2,000 shares at no par, M. J. Herman, Lloyd and Ruby Van Zandt and C. R. and Verna Stephens, all of Hot Springs.

Guy's Spul-Nut & Coffee Shop, Inc., of Fayetteville, 100 shares with $50 par, Boyd and Eula Foster, of Springdale and Guy and Johnnie Knowles, of Fayetteville.

8 Escape Boys Training School

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Eight inmates of the Arkansas Boys Training School escaped about midnight Monday and State Police said they had found no trace of them today.

The eight range in age from 15 to 17. Dean Rowell, superintendent of the school, said they ran out the front door of their dormitory and disappeared.

"We looked all night," Rowell said, "but we didn't find any of them."

The school operates on the honor system, and buildings are not locked. There is supervision, but Rowell said the youths "apparently picked just the right time when no one was watching."

Three of the boys had run away before, Rowell said. The school has 162 inmates. Some of them were committed for correctional measures and others are orphans.

Park Operator Appeals Ruling

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A suit in which a 13-year-old Craighead County boy sought damages for alleged injuries suffered in a Jonesboro amusement park was appealed Monday to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The youth, Robert C. Barrow, was struck on the head by a metal spring from a machine at the park. His father, Lloyd Barrow, sued E. D. Bolton, operator of the park, for $66,000.

Bolton contended the youth was trespassing and ignored warning signs before he was hurt. A jury found for Bolton.

V-8 Welcomes Spring

March, the month of weather changes, brings cold winds, melting snows, and occasionally a welcomed breath of balmy air to remind you of spring. As hostess you'll want to present something refreshingly good to help hurry the thoughts of spring.

As a luncheon appetizer, serve chilled V-8 juice accompanied by vegetables. This will surely awaken appetites and stimulate sparkling conversations. Remember to serve this nutritious tasty vegetable juice... chilled or hot. Personalize V-8 by adding a variety of garnishes. Have you ever thought of using carrots, celery, green pepper, pretzel sticks, cucumbers, or lemon slices as "straws"? It's a delightful idea.

Two favorite V-8 drinks are:
Spring V-8 Freshener
1 can (12 ounces) V-8
1 cup coarsely chopped cucumber
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed consommé
In electric blender, combine V-8 and cucumber; beat until smooth. Pour into saucepan. Add consommé. Heat; simmer a few minutes. Makes 5 to 6 servings.
V-8 Clam Cocktail
1 can (12 ounces) V-8
1 1/2 cups clam juice
Combine juices; chill. Serve with lemon wedges. Makes 6 servings.

Man Hasn't Learned How to Get Along

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The awesome explosions expected soon in the Pacific from American nuclear tests will be a fiery monument to man's scientific genius and his political adolescence.

He has learned how to shatter a continent, transplant a kidney, remove a cancer, orbit the earth, and now he is aiming for the moon. But he still hasn't learned how to get along with himself.

The American nuclear blasts, like the Russian blasts last year, will occur because the United States and Russia don't agree on an effective test ban treaty. For the same reason, the Russians say they will then have some more tests.

This can go on indefinitely, with both sides building even more frightening power, since there is no reason to think they can reach an agreement any time soon than they have in the past.

If Red China gets nuclear power and starts testing, and the French do some more testing, the world ought to look like the Fourth of July every few months or every few weeks.

This may seem to historians of the future—if not in 1,000 years, then perhaps in 10,000—foolproof evidence of the retarded condition of contemporary man.

The more awful the weapons of East and West become the less anxious they seem to test them on each other since til-for-tat could leave them both dead by the millions.

Perhaps right there is the happiest thought of all in what some fear is steady progress to disaster unless the testing stops and there are arms controls—that in time East and West will scare each other into such sweet reasonableness that problems which now look insurmountable will appear pathetically simple.

But East-West failure to agree on no testing is only another chapter in the history of the world's general inability to get along since the last war which was the greatest testimonial to man's preference for brawn over brains.

Some examples come readily to mind: The Korean war, the Israeli-Arab war, the Congo war, the Indochina war, the Viet Nam war, the Laotian war, the Indian attack on Goa, the Hungarian revolution, the Algerian war, the Latin-American revolutions, the Berlin blockade, the Russian missile threats, the Cuban revolution and the Cuban invasion.

But while East and West disagree they also keep busy with disagreements within themselves; the Russians can't agree with the Red Chinese, the Albanians and the Yugoslavs (the latter can't agree with the Chinese and Albanians) on the proper road to communism. French President Charles de Gaulle often disagrees with his allies; the West Germans can't stand their East German Communist cousins; the left and right in Latin America see nothing reasonable in reason; and if things look moderately quiet now among the new African nations that's probably a temporary illusion.

All this offers an encouraging field for bright young men everywhere to pitch in, shove their elders aside, and show what new views, and fresh viewpoints can do to snatch order out of chaos and restore sanity to a world that often looks as if it's really losing its marbles.

The trouble, though, is that all through history bright young men inevitably had to succeed older men and somehow the new views were lost, the fresh insights got tangled. And before they knew it they were the older men—being nudged by younger men—who thought they had solutions which somehow always got snagged.

Publisher Killed

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Gunnmen assassinated the two publishers of a Turkish-language weekly newspaper Monday night. The two had announced they were about to publish names of two Turkish extremists who planted bombs in two Nicosia mosques last month.

Ahmed Hikmet, 33, was slain by gunmen who invaded his bedroom and killed him in front of his wife.

The body of Ahmet Mouzafer Gurkan, 38, was found in his car outside his home.

Their paper, Jurnhuriyet, is the only Turkish-language paper that opposes the leading Turkish Cypriot party.

Labor Group Selected by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus named 14 persons to a Governor's Commission on Migratory Labor today.

The group will work with the President's Committee on Migratory Labor in a study of social and economic problems of itinerant farm workers.

Faubus also named two new members to the World's Fair Commission. They are Dave Grundfest, Little Rock department store executive, and J. Wythe

Walker, a Little Rock insurance man.

Faubus already had named James B. Sharp of Brinkley and Jerry Hinshaw of Springdale to this group. One appointment remains to be made.

Members of the migratory labor group are:

Bishop A. L. Fletcher, Louis Johnson and Jimmy T. Karam, all of Little Rock; J. C. Portis of Lepanto; James E. Major of Conway; Ewell Sexton of Clarksville; Harold Ohlendorf of Osceola; Jett Sain of Nashville; Mrs. C. C. Cannon of Forrest City; Walter F. Hurley Jr. of Newport, and four state officials, Education Commissioner Arch Ford, Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams, Health Officer J. T. Herron and Employment Security Administrator J. L. Bland.

Faubus said Bland would call the first commission meeting and the commission would elect its own chairman.

Faubus said he recognized many problems faced by migrant laborers, particularly Mexicans who work east Arkansas cotton fields each summer.

"One of the big drawbacks is the language barrier," the governor said. "A couple of years ago the Salvation Army formed a team which spoke these people's language and it solved problem after problem simply because it was able to communicate."

Nearly half of Polk County is in the Ouachita National Forest

Beer Incident on Ice Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The Casey Stengel-beer advertising incident was on ice today.

The New York Mets manager was $500 poorer, had been given a verbal slap on the wrist and taken out for pinch hitter Kathy Kersh.

The whole incident came to light Tuesday when it was learned that Stengel had been fined and reprimanded for posing in a baseball uniform for advertisements of the beer company sponsoring radio and television broadcast of the Mets.

The ads show Stengel in a Met uniform in position to hunt although company representative Kathy Kersh is standing behind Ol' Case already holding the baseball.

Commissioner Ford Frick said the ads were a violation of baseball rules, which prohibit men in uniform from posing for alcoholic beverage ads.

"But everything's been taken care of now," said the commissioner.

"In future ads the bat will be in the girl's hand, and Casey will be out of the picture."

Lincoln county, formed March 28, 1871, was named for President Lincoln.

Augusta, now in Woodruff county, was once the county seat of Jackson county.

Arguments in Murder Trial

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Closing arguments were expected today in the first degree murder trial of a young Jonesboro housewife accused in the fatal shooting of her husband last May 15.

Testimony was concluded Monday with Mrs. Lucille Bogard testifying in her own behalf concerning the slaying of her husband, Loyd B. Bogard, 22.

Under cross examination, Mrs. Bogard testified that she shot her husband after he had beaten her and threatened her life and the couple's three young children.

A previous trial resulted in a hung jury.

ANPA Head in Defense of Newspapers

By EDWARD L. SMITH
NEW YORK (AP)—The president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association attacked as irresponsible today those critics who would "have the public believe newspapers (are) fading away."

Mark Ferree, ANPA president, told more than 1,200 publishers at the ANPA convention that "a new stridency has crept into some of the 'professional' criticism leveled at newspapers — something quite the opposite of constructive criticism."

In a prepared address, Ferree argued that such critics chop at the roots of the newspaper tree, "never recognizing that they, with all free citizens, live and work in the shade of that very tree."

Ferree, executive vice president and general business manager of Scripps-Howard Newspapers, warned that if newspapers—as a fully independent medium of news and opinion — faded, "criticism would wither, not for lack of a target but for lack of its chief protector."

He declared that newspapers were prepared to use imaginatively all opportunities of the space age, and announced the creation of a scientific advisory committee of the ANPA.

The committee will assess ways of adapting the latest scientific findings and equipment to newspaper technology, he said.

It will consist of: Athelstan F. Spihaus, dean of the University of Minnesota's Institute of Technology, committee chairman; Trevor Gardner, chairman and president of the Hycon Manufacturing Co., Montevia, Calif.; and Dr. John Pierce, executive director of research — communications principles division, Bell Telephone Laboratories, Murray Hill, N.J.

Ferree said newspapers had changed to protect the public's right to know and to respond to its needs in the space age.

Ferree said a recent survey showed that newspapers go into nine of 10 suburban and city

Youth Admits Stealing Python

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Authorities at the San Diego Zoo say a 14-year-old boy had admitted he swiped Buster, the zoo's 4½-foot-long African ball python. He accomplished the abduction by wrapping the python around his waist belt-fashion.

Buster disappeared in the early-morning hours Sunday. Zoo officials weren't greatly worried because Buster has a gentle disposition and is nonpoisonous.

The teen-ager, whose name was not disclosed, said he climbed a zoo fence and broke a window to nab Buster because snakes are his hobby.

homes, and are read thoroughly by seven of 10 readers. More than one-third of advertising was spent on newspapers last year, and circulations have reached record highs.

Newspapers that merged or suspended publication, he said, did so because of "specific local conditions—they will not indicate a weakness in all newspapers."

Little Brush Up Drill on Doubletalk

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—It's time we had another brush-up drill on double talk, the modern art of saying one thing while you're thinking another.

Double-talk has one great social advantage: it enables you to use your mouth and your brain at the same time—but without getting yourself into trouble.

Only the very young or the very old ordinarily have either the ignorance or courage to say at all times exactly what they mean.

The rest of us must temper our conversational valor with a little judicious fudge. We rarely utter what our minds mutter.

For those wishing to polish up their skill in double-talk, here are a few typical examples—followed by their literal meanings:

"Oh, what a lovely new mink stole!" (Those poor rabbits sure died in vain.)

"Mother says she never worries about me when I'm out with you, John." Mother would rather have me bored to death than thrilled to pieces.

"There's no doubt of it—that boy of yours really has a head on him." Too bad he doesn't have another one just like it; then he could at least count on steady work with a carnival.

"Don't tell me you made that pretty dress all by yourself! I'd say nobody could turn out anything that awful with only 10 thumbs."

"It must have been a terrible blow to you when your dear aunt died." Particularly when you read the will, and found out the old girl left her money to her other niece.

"How did a child her age ever learn to play the piano like that?" With a hammer, or by wearing roller skates on her hands?

"No, Jim, I could never bring myself to marry a man just for his money." Not for the kind you make anyway.

"I'm not very hungry, Bob. I think I'll just have a club sandwich." I'm starved, but if I order the steak the cheapskate is likely to faint.

"Frankly, I've always regarded her as one of my dearest friends." She doesn't like me either.

"Why, Mabel, darling, your hair looks so lovely. Whatever did you do to it?" Pour molasses over it, and run it through a clothes dryer?

"No, let's be sure to keep in touch with each other." Don't call me—and I won't call you.

Was for the Storks

LONDON (AP)—A man dashed up to police Constable Michael Blake in suburban Charlton today and said: "My wife is going to have a baby and she's alone in the house. Please look after her while I telephone the midwife."

When the midwife arrived 11 minutes later, Constable Blake had delivered a girl.

The parents' names: Richard and Jean Stork.

Warns of Change in Constitution

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dean Ralph C. Barnhart of the University of Arkansas warned here Tuesday against hasty rewriting of the state constitution.

Barnhart spoke to some 75 members of the Committee for a Constitutional Convention. He said a constitution should be brief and flexible and should not be a catalog of "thou shalt nots."

The dean said the present state constitution is negative in nature because it was written as an anti-reconstruction document.

Barnhart said, "A charter of government written for an agrarian society of the middle 19th century can hardly reflect the needs of the problems of the 20th century."

Food processing is second to oil in the economy of Union county. Montgomery county was once the hunting grounds of the Caddo Indians.

Held in Slaying

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Eight young Negroes, four of them under 21, were held without bond today in the gun slaying of a white teen-ager last week.

Six of the group were charged with murder in the slaying of Lesley Lee Lewis, 21, he and two other white boys were fired on as they drove through a Negro housing project in Augusta after four days of racial incidents.

The other two Negroes were charged as accessories.

Wife Swap, Sex Club Is Uncovered

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Police say that a friendship club for lonely couples turned out to be a wife-swapping sex club.

"I've been a vice officer for 11 years and never saw anything like this before," said Detective Leonard Alter.

Taken into custody were Harvey L. Braswell, 65, and his wife Sarah Ethel, 60, of suburban Rialto, and Steve F. Ference, 42, and his wife Helen, 38, of nearby Riverside. The four were charged with conspiring to commit acts injurious to the public morals and outrageous to public decency.

Braswell offered to plead guilty at his arraignment Tuesday but the judge informed him it was not the proper time to enter a plea. A preliminary hearing was set for May 7 in Municipal Court. The couples were released under bond.

Detective Alter described the Braswells as the ringleaders. He said the two couples were arrested Monday night at the home of a young couple who had moved here from the East.

The new arrivals, police said, answered one of a number of newspaper advertisements offering to find new friends for lonely couples. After answering the ad, they were told about a friendship club consisting of 18 couples.

Members met at the easterners' home several weeks ago. Another rendezvous was planned for Tuesday night. Police were staked out when the Braswells and Ferences arrived.

Ex-Arkansan Is Injured

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bill Foster, formerly of Harrison, Ark., was among 15 persons injured here Monday in a blast at a manufacturing plant which killed two others.

Officials said Foster was blown 15 feet by the blast and suffered burns on the hands, an arm and ear.

His brother, J. T. Foster, who also formerly lived at Harrison and was employed at the Gustin-Bacon Manufacturing Co. plant, escaped injury. His car was demolished.

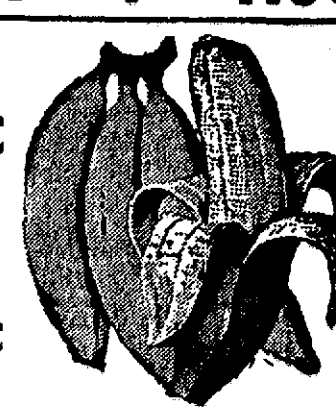

Nashville, in Howard county, has one plant that manufactures knives and two that makes shears.

U. S., Russia Plan Weather Undertaking

WASHINGTON (AP)—A blueprint for a worldwide weather observation and forecast system has been unveiled by its American co-designer.

Dr. Harry Wexler, director of research for the U.S. Weather Bureau, said Monday that he and Viktor Bogdanov, assistant director of the Soviet Hydrometeorological Service, developed the system at the request of the World Meteorological Organization.

Wexler said the plan might take five to 10 years to effect and could easily cost over $100 million.

It includes:
Establishment of three or four world weather centers to draw maps and make predictions for localities transmission to regional centers.

Establishment of a number of observation stations in the Southern Hemisphere.

Use of cooperatively launched satellites.

An increase in the number of balloon weather stations in both hemispheres.

Wexler said the system would make possible the tracking of every major storm around the globe and provide warnings for all hurricanes. It also would lead to an improved understanding of weather behavior.

Wexler and Bogdanov hope to present the final draft to a panel of experts in Geneva May 22 and then to the secretary general of the World Meteorological Organization a week later. The proposal may go before the United Nations in the summer, Wexler said.

Liz, Leading Man Having Trouble

ROME (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor, the troubled Cleopatra, was treated Tuesday night at a Rome hospital after an Easter seaside idyll with Richard Burton that reportedly ended in a violent quarrel.

Attendants at Salvo Mundi Hospital said the 30-year-old film queen had come there for treatment and had returned home several hours later. They said her condition was not serious but wouldn't say what was wrong.

A secretary at Miss Taylor's villa said she went to the hospital for a personal matter. He said she did not have food poisoning, for which she had been treated at the same hospital two months ago.

The secretary also denied a report by an Italian news agency that Miss Taylor had stopped to see a doctor in Orbetello after she left Burton at Porto Santo Stefano and drove back to Rome alone Monday night.

The secretary said Miss Taylor was perfectly well today.

Rome newspapers reported that Miss Taylor stormed out of Porto Santo Stefano and raced back to Rome after a violent quarrel with Burton, her leading man in "Cleopatra" and her constant companion since the announcement that she would divorce singer Eddie Fisher.

Burton returned to Rome alone Tuesday.

Charcoal is used principally as a domestic fuel, but it is also found in air conditioning filters, pencil points, poultry feeds and brake linings.

Wants Stronger Local GOP Party

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller, Arkansas national Republican committeeman, made a pitch for stronger local party organizations here Tuesday night.

Rockefeller, speaking at a rally at the White County courthouse, said the strength was needed if the party hoped to elect a Republican governor.

"It might be glamorous to have a Republican governor, but it doesn't make a two-party system," he said. "You don't make a two-party system in the governor's mansion."

The speech was the fourth for Rockefeller in two days of a swing around the state in support of the party. Rockefeller recently declined to seek the state's top post, saying he felt he would be of more value to the party as a worker.

Rockefeller was to fly to Fayetteville for a speech today.

Proposal Is a Spy Plan, Reds Charge

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko charged today that Western disarmament proposals at Geneva were designed for spying and X-raying the entire territory of the Soviet Union.

He spoke before the Supreme Soviet which opened Monday with the disarmament stalemate in Geneva as one of the chief items on its agenda.

Premier Khrushchev went through the motions of submitting the resignations of himself and his government to the newly elected Parliament, and was chosen unanimously to resume his office. The Supreme Soviet also unanimously re-elected Leonid Brezhnev chairman of the Presidium, or president of the U.S.S.R.

Surprisingly, the body also re-elected 81-year-old Klementi Voroshilov a member of the Presidium. Voroshilov was denounced at the last party congress as a member of the Molotov-Malenkov anti-party clique.

Reporting on disarmament, Gromyko said "the government of the United States is urging control for control's sake, or to be more exact, for the sake of intelligence."

On the other hand, he declared, the Soviet Union has submitted a plan for complete disarmament by which "the entire war machine is to be smashed and abolished in three consecutive stages."

Western delegations, he added, were throwing up obstacles to real disarmament and trying to get it to meet "to the roar of nuclear explosions."

The Soviet delegates have threatened to walk out of the conference if the United States goes ahead with its intention of starting a series of nuclear tests in the Pacific.

On Berlin and Germany, Gromyko said his exchanges with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Geneva were useful and revealed "the existence of a desire to find ways to narrow the gap between the positions of the sides with due consideration for the conditions actually existing in Germany, although it is quite clear that quite a few obstacles remain to be overcome."

Along with a peace treaty with East Germany, he said, there should be an agreement abolishing the occupation regime in West Berlin and its replacement by forces of neutral states or the United Nations for a definite period.

Tall Tales to Come

The Saskatchewan lake trout, a ferocious fighter and a tasty treat on the dinner table, is a favorite game fish for sportsmen visiting the "outdoor fun" province of Saskatchewan. Often weighing as much as 40 pounds, the lake trout provides plenty of sport for anglers hooking them on light tackle.

In the above picture, outdoor writer Cal Olson of Fargo, North Dakota, and his native guide admire a two-day limit of trout taken from one of Saskatchewan's northern lakes. The sports writer also enjoyed good northern pike and walleye fishing in surrounding waters. New wilderness roads are opening up more scenic and virgin country every year in the province's rugged northland. Here sportsmen will find excellent accommodation, boat and motor service and will be able to fish undisturbed on lakes so numerous that many have not even been named.

Further north and presently reached only by plane is Arctic grayling waters. This elusive fighter is a popular sport fish with spinning and fly fishermen.

The Saskatchewan fishing season opens in May and from this time until October anglers from all corners of this continent spend many thrilling moments on the province's thousands of lakes.

TV Star Is Visitor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Jayne Meadows, stage and television star, will appear here tonight at a meeting to start the statewide fund campaign for the Arkansas Association of Mental Health. She will later be the guest of the Winthrop Rockefeller. Rockefeller is Republican national committeeman for Arkansas. Miss Meadows is co-chairman of the 1962 GOP fund campaign.

Blough Tells U. S. Steel Side of Story

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger M. Blough says U.S. Steel Corp. will "have to do everything we can" —short of an early increase in prices—to bolster earnings.

"The economic situation that we had before we attempted to change our prices remains with us," he said in appraising future prospects of the nation's third largest industrial corporation.

Blough, U.S. Steel chairman, referred to the surprise $6 a ton boost announced April 10 and then withdrawn 72 hours later in the face of an angry response by President Kennedy.

He met with newsmen Tuesday after "Big Steel" disclosed January-March profits were $55.8 million. He said the figure left nothing for plant improvement after keeping abreast of dividend obligations to stockholders and debt repayment requirements.

In defending the abortive price boost, Blough had said it was needed to gather funds for upgrading and expanding plants to stay competitive with rival materials at home and steelmakers abroad.

The industrialist, answering the questions with customary caution, mentioned no specific steps for overcoming the corporation's cost-price squeeze, speaking only of an intense effort to hold down costs.

He indicated the government could help out by liberalizing regulations on depreciation, a factor in profits.

He ruled out repetition of the price move two weeks ago which asked whether there would be prior consultation with the White House in any such project.

"First, let me say that I have no contemplation on the part of United States Steel at the moment with respect to any major change in the level of our prices," he replied.

Queried about the possibility of increases on selected steel products, as distinguished from an across-the-board hike, Blough said "I didn't intend to convey any impression whatsoever with respect to that. I would say that is a matter which would have to be taken up in the future."

Accompanying the earnings report was declaration of a 75 cents a share dividend on common stock, the same payment directors have voted each quarter since the start of 1957.

Blough declined any forecast on what directors may decide in the future on the dividend rate.

The new liner France has a special reinforced hull for possible conversion to nuclear propulsion.

Several Firms Incorporate

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Articles of incorporation for two Fort Smith firms were filed today with the secretary of state.

Druid Hills Construction Co. is authorized to issue 100 shares of stock at $10 par value. Incorporators are L. W. Wilson Jr. and Beverly Kiefer of Fort Smith, and J. M. Barclay of Loughton, Okla.

Leon E. Wertz and Co. was incorporated by Leon and Catherine Wertz and L. A. and Anna LaChance, all of Fort Smith. It can issue 10,000 shares at $10 par.

Fourteen Alzheimer residents incorporated Teavine Investors, Inc., of Arkheimer, which can issue 1,000 shares with no par. W. dent agent.

Ruled Innocent in Husband's Slaying

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A Craighead Circuit Court jury deliberated less than three hours Tuesday before finding Mrs. Lucille Bogard innocent of first degree murder charges in the death of her husband.

Mrs. Bogard's husband, Loyd, was shot last May 15 as he ran from the kitchen door of the couple's home. Mrs. Bogard testified she shot her husband because he had threatened to kill her and their three children.

Tuesday's trial was the second for Mrs. Bogard. Last year the jury deadlocked and a mistrial was declared.

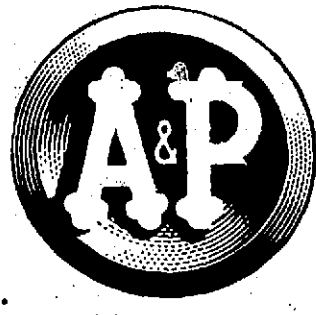

H. Townsend of Arkheimer is resident agent.

Money-Saving Main Dish

There is new taste enjoyment in that classic main dish favorite, macaroni and cheese, when made according to the easy-to-recipe here. The proof is in the eating, of course, and this version is guaranteed to please.

This hearty main dish is very simple to prepare—no separate cheese sauce to make. Cooked macaroni is layered with seasonings and shredded cheese, then undiluted evaporated milk poured over. When the casserole comes from the oven, the cheese and evaporated milk are blended into a smooth and rich sauce throughout. A tomato cut in wedges makes a colorful and flavorful accent under the toasty crisp crumbs.

MACARONI AND CHEESE

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 2 3/4 cups uncooked elbow macaroni (8 oz.) | 1/2 pound American cheese, shredded (8 cups) |
| 1 teaspoon salt                            | 1 can evaporated milk (12 cups)              |
| 1/2 teaspoon pepper                        | 1 tomato, cut in wedges                      |
| 1/2 teaspoon oregano or rubbed sage        | 1 slice bread                                |
| 1 small onion, sliced thin                 | 1 tablespoon butter, melted                  |

Drop macaroni gradually into 3 quarts boiling water to which 1 tablespoon salt has been added, and cook until tender, about 7 to 8 minutes. Drain and rinse with hot water, then drain again. Place half the macaroni in a well-buttered 2 quart casserole. Blend salt, pepper and oregano or sage; sprinkle half over macaroni. Separate onion into strips and scatter half over macaroni. Layer half the cheese over, then pour about half the evaporated milk over all. Repeat. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. Place tomato wedges on top. Pull bread into small crumbs, mix with butter then sprinkle on top. Bake 10 minutes longer. Makes 4 servings.

Says Ike Was Fearful of U2 Program

NEW YORK (AP) — President Dwight D. Eisenhower expressed fear at the time he approved the U2 spy plane program in 1955 that one of the planes might fall into Soviet hands, an article in Look magazine says.

That was five years before the U2 piloted by Francis Gary Powers crashed in the Soviet Union, heightening the crisis in relations between the two nations.

An article in the current issue of the magazine quotes friends of Eisenhower as saying he told advisers when he approved the program:

"If one of these planes is shot down, this is going to be on my head. I'm going to catch hell. The world would be in a mess."

The article quoted the advisers as replying that the Soviets wouldn't disclose it because they wouldn't run the risk of being humiliated by the revelation that their skies had been invaded repeatedly.

"The President was not convinced," the magazine article said. "They would protest, he felt, because that would be the only way to stop the flights."

The article said the President in 1958 expressed continued misgivings about the project in a conversation with his press secretary, James C. Hagerty.

It said he told Hagerty that he often had asked the Central Intelligence Agency, "What happens if you're caught?" And the CIA always replied, "It hasn't happened yet."

The Look article, "The Secret History of The U2," also said that Allen W. Dulles, then CIA director, inspected records of the routine preflight psychological examination Powers took just before his last flight.

"If he (Dulles) had been the agent on the scene, he decided he would not have sent Powers over the Soviet Union that day," the article said.

It added that Dulles "did not reveal the specific reasons for his reservations about Powers."

Powers was captured, convicted of spying and sentenced to Prison. He recently was freed in exchange for Col. Rudolf Abel, a Soviet spy convicted in the United States.

The Look article was written by David Wise of the New York Herald Tribune's Washington bureau and Thomas B. Ross of the Chicago Sun-Times Washington bureau.

Lawrence county, second in the Arkansas Territory, was named for Capt. James Lawrence, a naval officer killed in the War of 1812.

Hazards of Hair Spray Discussed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Possible hazards in hair sprays, polio vaccine and tooth banks are topics of medical reports: Hair Spray Hazard?

A medical study raises suspicions that hair sprays may cause lung diseases in some women, and men who work as hair-dressers.

There is no proof this happens, and thousands of women have used the sprays without any apparent harmful effects, says a team of doctors.

But they tell of 15 women and men who possibly suffered lung damage from breathing in particles of resins used in hair sprays. They found evidence of lung damage either in X rays, in examinations of bits of tissue, and in autopsies of three women.

Polio Vaccine

The new live-virus polio vaccine now is becoming available, but a committee of the American Academy of Pediatrics sees no emergency or urgency to give it to persons who have already had the full series of killed-virus of Salk vaccine shots and boosters.

Most paralytic polio occurs now among persons who didn't get Salk vaccine, it says. The specialists urge more effort to use the

Few Details on Pacific Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Few details of the scheduled U.S. nuclear tests in the Pacific will be made public, U.S. officials have indicated.

Atomic Energy Commission and White House officials said Monday that news reporters and photographers will be barred from the sites and there are no plans to provide any official photographs.

The only immediate information to be made public will be furnished in official announcements, probably from the AEC.

Sabin or live-virus vaccine in persons who as yet have had no vaccination. The Sabin vaccine offers several advantages, and "is best used on a community wide basis whenever an epidemic of polio strikes an area."

Extra Teeth

One day you may be able to call on a tooth bank to replace missing teeth.

As an initial step, teeth have been preserved and grown outside the body in research by Dr. Robert Gerstner at the New York University Dental Center. Teeth in early stages of growth can be treated with an anti-freeze, glycerol, and then freeze-stored for years. They grow normally again after quick thawing.

Dick Powell's Comedy Was a Happy Hour

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There are times when, it seems that television land is inhabited exclusively by cowboys, crime fighters, and comedians.

That, in itself, wouldn't be so bad, but the comedians seem to be night club graduates who have taken their old routines in Danmy Thomas style, into what television fondly believes is a home like yours, and mine—except our homes don't have those wall to wall laugh tracks.

Therefore, it is nice to report that Dick Powell, just about the last of the urbane comedy actors, is still adding a deft touch to amusing shows that fall a bit south of Noel Coward, but far north of "Pete and Gladys."

Tuesday night was a happy example—a slight tale about a corporation lawyer retained to protect a poor working girl who had been plagiarized.

The girl, however, was a stripper of high principles whose choreography had been snatched by a rival. It was a funny idea and Powell and his aides made the most of it.

The anthology series, which has included serious as well as comedy shows, has been renewed for another NBC season. It should be — it's one of television's best hours.

CBS is planning a complicated realignment of its daytime schedules starting on June 18. Most interesting will be the start of a Monday-through-Friday, afternoon version of "To Tell the Truth," the amusing guessing game which will continue in its Tuesday evening spot.

In the process of making room for the panel show, between 3:30 and 3:55 p.m., two audience participation programs bite: the dust "Video Village" and "Video Village Jr.," a children's version of the game on Saturdays.

Also disappearing will be "The Clear Horizon," a recent addition to the ranks of soap operas that didn't catch on despite its Cape Canaveral setting.

Two vintage dramatic series will be expanded. "Brighter Day" will move into the morning line-up (11:30-11:55) and "The Secret Storm" will start 15 minutes earlier (4:40-4:55 p.m.).

Australia's Great Barrier Reef, 1,250 miles long, is the world's mightiest coral structure. Built of countless trillions of limestone-depositing sea organisms, the reef has many stretches never walked by man and some 500 of the cays and islands are uninhabited.

Bounty on Wolves in Little River
ASHTOWN, Ark. (AP) — Effective May 1, a $10 bounty will be paid for adult wolves killed in Little River County. County Judge Ray Sikes said built in Boone County, the entire town of Lead Hill was moved to county after stockmen expressed fear the animals would kill stock and poultry. Sikes said the wolves have done little damage in the county, though their number has increased. When the Bull Shoals Dam was built in Boone County, the entire town of Lead Hill was moved to county after stockmen expressed higher ground.
